TERMS AND CONDITIONS OF FORWARDING CONTRACT

American Express Company (hereinafter called "the Company") agrees to act as foreign freight forwarding agent with respect to the goods described on the face hereof upon the following terms and conditions, which shall be binding upon the owner, the shipper, the consignee and all other parties to the transaction (hereinafter called collectively "the Sender"):

1(a). The Company acts only as a foreign freight forwarding agent. As such it undertakes only to arrange the handling, transportation, storage and insurance of the goods by others and the collection by others of C.O.D. and other payments, pursuant to instructions of the Sender. The Company shall not be liable as an ocean, rail, truck, lighter, air, express or other carrier, freight forwarder, warehouseman, underwriter, banker or otherwise for any damage or loss suffered by the Sender unless suffered solely as a result of the negligence or other fault of the Company.

1(b). The Company shall not be liable for loss, damage, delay or misdelivery of the goods, even if its own negligence was the sole cause thereof, in excess of the fair market value at U. S. port of the goods affected or five hundred dollars per package, whichever is less. In no event shall the Company be liable in any amount for consequential damages sustained because of loss or damage to or delay or misdelivery of the goods.

2. Unless otherwise specially instructed on the face hereof, the Company may receive bills of lading and other shipping documents and arrange for the transportation of the goods either in the name of the Sender or in the name of the Company.

3. Unless otherwise specially instructed on the face hereof, the Company may accept bills of lading and other shipping documents covering the goods which limit the liability of the issuers thereof and which subject the goods and the handling thereof to other terms and conditions of the issuers. The valuations stated by the Sender on the face hereof shall be considered as stated solely for customs and insurance (if requested) purposes, in the absence of special instructions of the Sender requiring the Company to obtain valued shipping documents.

4. Unless otherwise specially instructed on the face hereof, the Company may designate other foreign freight forwarding agents, including The American Express Company, Inc. and other affiliates of the Company, to provide forwarding services with respect to the goods outside the United States of America and Canada. In such event, agents so designated shall be deemed agents of the Sender pursuant hereto.

5(a). The Company shall not arrange for any insurance on the goods unless instructions to insure are given by the Sender in the space reserved on the face hereof. If such instructions are given, insurance will be arranged with one or more insurance companies or other underwriters to be selected by the Company. Such insurance will be governed by the certificates or policies actually issued, and will be effective only when the risk has been accepted by such insurance companies or underwriters.

5(b). Marine insurance generally does not cover losses resulting from theft, pilferage, breakage, leakage or other special risks. If protection against such hazards is desired it must be specifically requested on the face hereof.

6. The Company may at any time demand that the Sender advance any or all of the expenses of forwarding the goods, including service charges of the Company, and need not incur or pay any expenses until receipt of the advance demanded.

7. The Company shall have a general lien on any property of the Sender under its control for all claims for expenses and service charges incurred in connection with any shipments of the Sender. If any such claim remains unpaid for thirty days after demand is made, the Company may sell the goods, or so much thereof as may be necessary, to satisfy such lien and pay the expenses of the sale, at public auction or private sale, without notice to the Sender, and apply the net proceeds of such sale to the payment of its claims.

8. If the goods or any part thereof are refused at destination, or remain unclaimed at destination or at any transshipping point in the course of transit, or are returned for any reason or are confiscated by any government, the Sender shall nevertheless pay the Company all its expenses and service charges. The Company shall not be obligated to arrange for the return of the goods, or for the delivery of the goods to any point other than the destination as indicated on the face hereof, except by special agreement.

9. The Sender must furnish to the Company prior to the shipment of the goods, proper consular declarations, weights, measures and values, and other information, in the language, and as required by the laws and customs regulations of the country of destination of the goods. If such material is not furnished, the Company may prepare consular invoices and other documents using such information as it has, but shall not be responsible for any loss, fine, confiscation or damages resulting from errors made in good faith.

10(a). The Sender shall notify the Company of any claim of damage, loss, delay or misdelivery promptly, and in any event within six months from the date of shipment specified on the face hereof. The Company shall not be liable to the Sender for damage, loss, delay or misdelivery even though due to the fault of the Company, unless it has been so notified.

10(b). The Sender may not commence an action against the Company unless it does so within two years after the date of shipments specified on the face hereof. No agent or employee of the Company except an officer thereof shall have the authority to alter or waive any of the requirements of this paragraph. Nothing contained in this paragraph shall be construed to enlarge the liability of the Company.

In order to cooperate with you to the fullest extent, our prices have been kept to a minimum and are as follows:

For the above mentioned preparatory work	- U.S.$3,200.00

Gentlemen:

Further to our letter of November 20, we are pleased to give you below our quotation for supplying 300,000 notes of 2-1/2 Guilders in accordance with the specifications given us in your letter of the 14th.

As is the case with the notes of 1 Guilder, it will be necessary to make the required alterations in the original steel face and back dies and to prepare new steel printing plates. These alterations are not quite as extensive as those required for the 1's. As a result, the engraving costs are considerably lower.

In line with our quotation for the notes of 1 Guilder, our prices for the 2-1/2 denomination have been kept to a minimum and are as follows:

For the above mentioned preparatory work -	US$1,200.00
For printing, export packing and delivery
to the export carrier -----	5,235.00
For a total of	US$6,435.00

F.O.B. New York.

Concerning delivery, if we should be favored with your order not later than December 16, we estimate that we could have the total quantity of notes ready for shipment about April 24, assuming prompt approval and return to us of the models and die proofs which will be sent to you.

We trust you will find our price and delivery promise favorable and that we may have the opportunity of being of further service to you.

We acknowledge receipt of your letter of December 3, JvD/sve/1038, and are pleased to give you herein our quotations for 500,000 each of your notes of 1 and 2-1/2 Guilder.

for the previously mentioned preparatory work.
For printing, export packing and delivery to the export carrier	---	8,300.00

Please let me hear from you as soon as possible, at the latest, before February 8, 1969 whether there would be any difference in the abovementioned prices, and if so how much the difference will be to make complete new designs, for example by replacing the images on the front side of the notes with two other images and also by replacing the dutch court of arms on the reverse side of the notes with the Antillian court of arms.

Thanking you for your kind attention to this matter, I remain,

Attention: Mr. J. G. Blikslager

Gentlemen:

I refer to your letter of January 14, JvD/sve/9, our cable of the 17th, your cabled reply of the 20th and our telephone conversation of the 21st, all in connection with your order for notes of 1 and 2-1/2 Guilder.

As mentioned in our conversation, we have in our archives a number of beautiful, fully steel engraved allegorical vignettes. Among these is a subject for which you expressed a preference, an allegory depicting aviation. For your observation and return to us, you will find herewith a die proof of the vignette to which I refer. As you will see, it is a magnificent engraving of superior quality and, with certain alterations, will fit the design of the present notes.

The preparatory costs for the necessary alterations and replacing the current face vignettes with the above subject and for substituting the Antillian coat of arms for the Dutch coat of arms will amount to U.S.$2,250.00 for each denomination.

To sum up, our latest quotations are as follows:

500,000 Notes of 1 Guilder

For all preparatory work, face and back ---	U.S.$ 5,450.00
For printing, export packing and delivery
to the carrier -----	8,300.00
For a total of	U.S.$13,750.00

Dear Sirs:

I wish to acknowledge with thanks receipt of your cable dated February 26, 1969 in which you requested the status of our order for the printing of our certificate notes.

As I mentioned to you on the phone we have had bids also from England and Holland. The entire matter, with respect to the exchange of correspondence, cables and phone conversation with your goodselves, were duly discussed with his Excellency the Minister of Finance.

However unfortunately I very much regret to say that consequently his Excellency has decided that the printing of the certificate notes is to be done in Holland. As you are aware, our banknotes are also printed in Holland by J. Enschedé & Zn., Haarlem.

I would like to make use of this opportunity to thank you for the nice cooperation and detailed informations received from you in connection herewith.

With sincere appreciation of your courtesies and with very best regards, I remain,

Very truly yours,
